AT THE SCHOOLS

The Crowded Commencement Week—Large Graduating Classes—Many Notes of Interest.

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.

With the close of the school in sight, teachers and pupils are putting in a good many hours of hard work daily, while preparations for the exercises connected with the class play and other functions naturally encroach upon the hours of rest. Next week's program begins Sunday evening with a sermon to the graduates to be delivered by Rev. D. F. Howe, of the Westlake M. E. church, Los Angeles. Mr. Howe has a reputation for originality which gives promise of something a little out of the usual character of these discourses and he will no doubt be greeted by a crowded house. The Class Day exercises Tuesday evening at the new High School auditorium, which has been accommodatingly cleared up by Mr. Bliss, the architect, for the occasion, promises to be of unusual interest. Upon this occasion the class will make an ambitious effort and present that sterling old English comedy, by Richard Brinsley Sheridan, "The Rivals," which has delighted thousands of theatergoers during a century past. This is the only one of the entertainments to which an admission fee will be charged, prices being 25 cents for general admission and 35 cents for reserved seats. The auditorium by taking in a side room will seat about 400. On Thursday evening the commencement exercises will be held in the new auditorium when the class will be addressed by Hon. Joseph Scott, president of the city board of education in Los Angeles. Invitations have been issued to these exercises in some instances, but are not required to secure admission, as the public will be welcomed to the extent of the limitations of the capacity of the hall.

The graduating class this year consists of 17 pupils, the largest by six of any class ever graduated from the school. The number of pupils enrolled this year is 147; last year there were 123, since which time Burbank has withdrawn. The Washington Park district, which has cut off from Tropic recently is now a part of the union district, making seven grammar schools in the district, as it was originally.

The new building will be completed in July; a formal dedication will probably take place in September when the public will have an opportunity to inspect the building.

Next year a new department is to be added to the school which will greatly increase its usefulness; this will be a commercial course. It will be a four-year course and will comprise besides the features of a business course, such studies as English, physical geography, etc. In charge of this department will be Mr. C. L. Gates, for four years past the head of the academic department of the Sherman Institute at Riverside. The present teachers have all been re-elected and it is probable that there will yet be another added to the faculty.

As far as known the movements of the teachers during their summer vacation will be as follows: Miss Moore goes to the summer school of the Southern California University to take a Science course. Miss McLean goes to Boston for summer school work in physical culture and hygiene. Miss Magowan will go to Berkeley summer school.

The members of the graduating class are as follows: Loren F. Beaufait, George Perry Benson, Charles A. Brown, Ethel E. Chase, William F. Cotterall, Margaret O. Edleman, Ruth Lella Gilhouse, Claire G. Glenn, Theodore Gould, Bertha A. Hopkins, Richard M. Stine, Alma Stone, Munroe Walton, Melvin LeRoy Wolf.

CLASS DAY EXERCISES AT FOURTH STREET GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

A gala day air hovered over the Glendale grammar school when the pupils with great enthusiasm were preparing for their Class Day exercises given at the school by the eighth grade, Thursday afternoon, the program consisting of selections by the school orchestra; Class Will, by Elsie Theede and Ethel Tarr; piano duet, Dorinda Haviland and Bessie Brewster; song by the Girls' Glee club; the class prophecy by Dorothy Lee of the seventh grade, and several selections by the orchestra.

The graduating class is unusually large, forty-one receiving diplomas. The graduates are: Elmer Courtney, Charleston Dow, Wendall Gilhouse, Herbert Henning, Alfred Knight, Edward Krache, Julius Kranz, Frank Littell, Wilmet McIntyre, Elmer Nelson, Claude Norton, Claude Sanborn, Charles Shropshire, Emil Stein, Leo Wheeler, Everett Woods, Edwin Sadler, Anna Addison, Bessie Brewster, Elizabeth Byrket, May Church, Florence Dodsforth, Clarice Dominy, Bertha Eves, Edith Farrell, Carlissa Haynes, Esther Heilman, Dorinda Haviland, Edna Lawson, Mae Lawson, Catherine Lennox, Marie McDonald, Jessie Mock, Eva Oliver, Olive Quick, Lucy Stringer, Elizabeth Russell, Ethel Tarr, Elsie Theede, Dorothy Wilde, Frances Zerr.

WEST GLENDALE SCHOOL.

At the West Glendale School, Thursday, Mrs. Chalmers Smith, state president of the Mothers' Congress, addressed the child study circle and her splendid talk was very acceptably received. Nine will graduate from the school in the 25th inst., probably in the new High School auditorium, if not in the Knights of Pythias hall, Brand boulevard.

The graduates are: George Todd, George Thurman, Hortense Rand, Irene Grady, Ida Wright, Hazel Pierce, Millie Todd, Ruth Mitchell and Esmeralda Manning.

It is of great interest and profit for the West Glendale pupils that the fine up-to-date equipment for the athletic apparatus is about all placed and will be made complete at once. In the girls' side there are two teeters, four swings, a maypole (which is a sort of glorified whirling), a sand bed 16x16 and fourteen sets of diabolo. In the boys' side are a swing, the bars, two teeters, ladders and a sand bed. These sand beds are shaded always. The boys also enjoy private lockers, for which they pay a nominal sum which is returned at the close of the school year.

There are also, two immense cement-floored play rooms with well-equipped toilets and lunch rooms, which are 20 degrees cooler than the out-door playground.

It is important to notice that for two days during each week throughout the summer the playgrounds and library of nearly one thousand volumes will be open, but to pupils of that school district only.

Pupils are to watch for future announcements through the GLENDALE NEWS.

Outside of Los Angeles West Glendale has perhaps the finest equipped athletic and playgrounds in Southern California.

The eighth grade of West Glendale grammar school was entertained Saturday afternoon, June 12, by their teacher, Miss Miller, and principal, Mrs. Taylor, with a matinee party to the Belasco theater.

The school will close June 25th. The girls will give the boys a final party at the home of Mrs. Taylor, Wednesday, the 16th, and expect to have a jolly time.

PATRONS' DAY AND ART EXHIBIT.

Activities of general interest of the Sixth street school closed on Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 5 with an art exhibit and lecture by Artist Kantz. The speaker gave a most interesting talk upon the valuable collection of pictures given by Mrs. Albert Affeld of Chicago, sister of Miss Walte, principal of the Sixth street school. The pictures have been framed by the children and Parent-Teacher Association.

In his talk Mr. Kantz said any high school or art museum would be proud to claim the collection, one or two being especially unique in that they may never be duplicated. The rooms were artistically decorated with water color, pen and ink work, basket work and weaving done by the little tots of the first and second grades.

A fine program completed the afternoon. Music by the fifth and sixth grade, a wand drill by the girls of the third and fourth grades, and music by the primary classes, a novel feature presented by this grade being the singing and drawing with both hands the butterflies and tulips.

A solo by Ernest Theede was enjoyed as was the music furnished by Mrs. Hatch's room.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

The First Methodist Church was filled to overflowing Sunday evening when Rev. J. F. Humphreys preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the grammar school. Special music was furnished by the Presbyterian choir and the P. E. O. quartette.

BIRTHDAYS CELEBRATED.

A delightful and interesting social function was the birthday dinner arranged by Mrs. D. W. Hunt to celebrate Dr. Hunt's birthday anniversary on June 11, when Mrs. Hunt chose to especially honor Mrs. James F. McIntyre, Mr. E. W. Pack and Mr. James H. Wells, who also claim June as their natal month, and who, together with Dr. Hunt received a number of pleasant and appropriate reminders of the occasion.

Covers were laid for twelve, which included besides the host and hostess their guest and cousin, Mr. Sweetser, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Pack, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wells, Miss Wells, James Wells, Jr., and Miss Dorothy Hunt.

Befitting the month of June, roses and rose color predominated in the decorations and color scheme of the dinner, with a touch of fragrant English honeysuckle, the accepted flower for June, which presented effects equally charming to eye and palate.

Amusing appropriate place cards were used and bright and entertaining conversation held away throughout the enjoyable and leisurely repast, which was crowned by the appearance of the birthday cake in rose design, brilliantly lighted with many tiny candles.

Congratulations were showered upon the genial doctor and the guests of honor by the honored guests and many words of appreciation were expressed to the charming hostess, whose bright and artistic mind had conceived and carried out so enjoyable an affair.

SIXTH STREET PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION.

The last meeting of the year was held last Friday afternoon, a large number of parents being in attendance. A delightful vocal number by Mrs. Bryant was followed by an interesting address by Mrs. H. O. Helpling of Los Angeles, who captivated her audience by her charming personality. Delicious refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

CITY TRUSTEES

Trees Selected for Several Streets—Communications from Civics Committee—Grade for Verdugo Road to be Established.

All members present. Demands as follows were referred to the finance committee:

Sidney Dell, for street laws	$ 4.00
John H. Bates, curb rebate	12.30
Neuner Co., sup. bond election	8.00
F. Evans, labor St. dept.	8.00
Thos. Urquidez	3.75
J. M. Sprinkle, labor	18.00
Lapp Gifford Co.	154.60
J. C. Lemnox, interest	52.50

Demands previously referred were reported back approved.

Report of city marshal on varieties of trees desired, on Isabel, Kenwood and Jackson streets, by the property owners; referred to public works committee.

A communication was received from Mrs. Ella C. Witham, chairman of the civics committee of the Tuesday Afternoon club, in regard to the annual report of that organization as far as it referred to a "city forester." Also a communication from the same committee requesting permission to erect a free drinking fountain on Fourth street near the corner of Glendale avenue.

A request from Frank Zerr was received for permission to sell fireworks and same was granted. Trustee Blackburn offered a resolution selecting the camphor trees for planting on Kenwood street, which was passed. Same action taken in regard to the Black Acacia on Isabel street and camphor trees on Second street from Glendale avenue to Isabel street; also in regard to Black Acacia trees on Orange street from First street to Sixth street.

The city engineer was instructed to prepare an ordinance recommending the grade of Third street from Glendale avenue to Verdugo Road and Eagle Rock avenue from Verdugo Road to the East city boundary line, after the deeds to the city have been placed on record.

The city engineer was instructed to prepare an ordinance recommending a grade for Verdugo Road from the North city boundary to the South city limits. He was also instructed to prepare estimates of cost for doing the following proposed street improvements: Glendale avenue from Sixth street to South city boundary line; Lomita avenue from Glendale avenue to Adams street; Sixth street from Glendale avenue to Brand Boulevard; Seventh street from Glendale avenue to Central avenue.

City engineer and city attorney were instructed to prepare resolutions of intention to improve the above mentioned streets between the said points, including sidewalks.

The president of the board was authorized to issue a proclamation designating the afternoon of June 24th as "Clean-up Day." The committee in charge of condemnation proceedings on Sixth street instructed to procure the necessary certificates of title for use in court under said proceedings.

ABOUT GAS—PROSPECTS GOOD FOR IT IN A FEW MONTHS.

Messrs. Torrance and Warren were in Glendale Tuesday last looking over city in regard to the gas proposition. Mr. Torrance is one of the capitalists interested in the project and Mr. Warren came to Glendale as an expert to confirm the estimates made for the promoters by Mr. Gordon, who has been working the matter up for the past two or three months. Mr. Warren is an old electric light and power man, having been the first manager of the first electric company in Los Angeles, something like 25 years ago. We understand that he fully confirmed Mr. Gordon's estimates and approved of his plans, and he expressed his opinion that Glendale and surrounding territory constituted one of the most promising fields for a gas proposition which he has found for a long time. Mr. Warren is not at present connected with either gas or electric light business and has recently returned from a European trip during which he took notice of the trend of municipal improvements. He informs us that in Europe there are a number of cities which have discarded electricity and now use gas for street lighting purposes, great improvements having recently been made in gas lamps.

MUSICAL AND LITERARY ENTERTAINMENT.

The entertainment given Saturday evening at Masonic Temple by Mrs. Rule Meeke was thoroughly enjoyable.

The opening number by James Whitcomb Riley at once captivated her audience, and held their interest through pathos and humor portrayed in her usual charming and characteristic manner.

Miss Bell added interest to the evening by her musical numbers, her encore of Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" and the Pan Pastorale receiving enthusiastic applause.

FORMAL LUNCHEON.

A formal luncheon was given by Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ireland at their new home at 509 Virgil avenue, Glendale, in honor of Mrs. Albert McCoy and daughter Alice, previous to their departure for Illinois, where they will spend the summer.

METHODIST CHURCH.

J. F. Humphrey, Pastor.

Morning sermon, "As Doves to the Windows." A large class will be received into membership in this service. In the evening, Dr. D. F. Howe, of Westlake Methodist church, Los Angeles, will address the baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of the High School.

Epworth League devotional meeting at 6:45, "Rejected Opportunities," Ray Sherman, leader.

The mid-week prayer service has been changed to Thursday evening. Four members were received into the church last Sunday.

The church could not accommodate the large attendance last Sunday night. Some said it was the largest congregation ever seen in the church. The Presbyterian and Methodist congregations will unite in union meetings the Sunday evenings during the months of July and August.

ST. MARK'S EPISCOPAL.

There will be a celebration of the holy communion at 11 o'clock and the choir will read portions of the bishop's last convention address. It is especially urged that all communicants of the parish be present. Strangers and visitors are cordially welcome on all occasions.

The Sunday School meets at 10 o'clock sharp in the parish hall, corner Third and Jackson.

An orchestra composed of the young people of the Episcopal church is being organized to assist in the services of that church and its Sunday School. A meeting will be held on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the parish hall for rehearsal.

The Rev. M. S. Runkle, minister-in-charge of St. Mark's Episcopal, announces for the convenience of those who may desire to reach him by phone, that the phone number at the rectory is 2651.

COMMITTEE ON ARRANGEMENTS FOR FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION MEETS.

After the board of trade adjourned last Tuesday evening, the committee on arrangements for a proper celebration of the Fourth of July (on the 5th) held a meeting, which was not, however, largely attended. The committee on transportation, through Mr. Mitchell, reported that the Salt Lake Railway company will furnish a train to make the round trip between Tropic and the park, at such time as the committee desires, if guaranteed $75.

The train will consist of as many cars as are necessary to carry all the people. A price of 25 cents for round trip between Tropic and the park and 20 cents between Glendale and the picnic grounds, will probably be charged. At this rate it will be necessary for about four hundred fares to be secured. A committee will probably be appointed to canvass the territory and ascertain if this number can be secured. A committee was also appointed on concessions for the selling of ice cream and other refreshments. Another meeting of the committee and of all interested in the matter is to be held Monday evening at the same place (city hall).

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.

There was a well attended meeting of the board of trade at the city hall, Tuesday evening. Indeed the attendance exceeded the chair capacity and several ladies were among the audience. A number of new members were added to the roll. The resignation of Mr. G. H. Barager as secretary was received and accepted and Dr. L. W. Sinclair was elected secretary.

The principal subject discussed was the bond election, on Tuesday next. A motion was made by Mr. Leavitt which was discussed at considerable length, that the board endorse the proposition to vote bonds for an electric lighting plant. The sentiment of the meeting was altogether one-sided, but there were one or two speakers who doubted the advisability of voting on the subject. All objections were overruled, however, and it finally came to a vote and was passed unanimously, a few of those present not voting.

Another motion was then made and carried that a mass meeting be called for Saturday evening (tonight) at the pavilion, Fourth and Glendale avenue, when speakers will discuss the various phases of the subject.

PRESIDENT'S DAY.

As previously announced the function chosen for the closing day of the Tuesday Afternoon club year has been designated by the president, Mrs. Pack, to be a picnic on Tuesday afternoon, June 22d, at Canyon Crest canyon. As Mr. and Mrs. Pack expect to leave for Europe within a few days of the date of this occasion, unusual interest necessarily centers around it.

It is hoped by the committee of arrangements that every member will attend, bringing a picnic lunch, with cups, spoons and forks for the family and invited friends attending. Coffee will be furnished. Supper will be served at five o'clock, at which hour the gentlemen will be expected.

The club will leave Glendale avenue on the 2:10 car. Cars run every half hour during the afternoon past the house of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wells, who extend a cordial invitation to each member and her party.

Khaki suits, sunbonnets or picnic garb of any sort will be in order, and every one may expect to have a happy afternoon in meeting and greeting members both old and new.

COMMITTEE.

JUNIORS GIVE A SPREAD.

To the Jolly Juniors and the Seniors indebted for one of the best times of the school year. Unique and original were many ideas carried out when on Friday last the fun began with a hayride over a historic, circuitous and moonlit road which included Burbank and Hollywood, chaperoned by Miss McLean of the faculty and her mother, Mrs. McLean.

Arriving at the G. A. R. hall the pupils were welcomed by a number of their parents, including Mrs. E. D. Goode, Mrs. Elias, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Henry P. Smith, Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Helen Frazer.

In the hall were lavishly used the Junior colors, white and gold, carried out largely in marguerites, while in the dining room the motif employed in white and green, the Senior colors, were four hundred carnations and ferns.

It was a Dutch spread, and little Dutch figures were used as place cards. Even on the crepe napkins were quaint windmills and Dutch figures. A chain toast went about the table, including about everyone present.

MISSIONARY DAY AT THE METHODIST CHURCH.

An unusually fine program was given at the Methodist church last Thursday by the Foreign Missionary society. The Sunday School room was elaborately decorated with lilies and greenery, and cleverly hung on screens about the room were photographs and pictures of missionaries and foreign countries relative to the society's work.

Mrs. Dana Goss, dressed in Korean costume, had charge of the "Mystery Box," the feature of the afternoon.

A solo by Mrs. Burket, and duet by Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Potts were greatly enjoyed.

Reports from the convention at Pasadena were heard and the meeting closed with a social hour during which time fruitade was served.

Unauthorized Use of Name

To the Editor of the GLENDALE NEWS:

A hand bill, which E. M. McClure is circulating is being thrown around the streets of Glendale. The circular, purporting to be a committee's report adverse to the bond issue, contains among the signatures my brother's name, with one initial incorrect. As a matter of fact, my brother is in Columbus, Ohio, at present, and his name was used without authority from any member of my family. Why does E. M. McClure have to use unauthorized names? Can he not find enough men in Glendale to sign his crooked circular without using names of people who are absent?

H. N. WILDE

FOURTH OF JULY MEETING.

A last effort will be made Monday evening next to get out a sufficient number of people to assure the success of the proposed picnic and celebration at Verdugo Park on the Fourth of July. The picnic will be held by the churches and Sunday schools in any event, but it is desired that citizens avail themselves of the opportunity to make the day memorable in local annals. The meeting Monday evening at the city hall should be attended by all citizens who are willing to assist in the undertaking.

A FLAG ON MOUNT HOLLYWOOD.

We are in receipt of a communication from Mrs. Wm. F. Senour, of Hollywood in reference to the proposition to plant a flag on Mt. Hollywood—across the river from and in view of Glendale—on July 5th. For this purpose contributions are solicited from the Glendale school children and others and a bank has been placed in the Miradero Pharmacy to receive such contributions. It is a patriotic object and deserves some support from our people.

SWEET SIXTEENS AND OTHERS.

A bevy of happy girls and boys enjoyed Saturday evening when Miss Evelyn Ryan one of the sixteen, acted as hostess in her home on Fifth street, and prettily entertained the members of a little social club and their friends who met from time to time for cards and music. No prizes were awarded, but dainty souvenirs were given each guest. A light supper brought the pleasant event to a close.

STANDARD BEARERS BUSY.

The Standard Bearers of the Methodist Church met Wednesday afternoon and are full of interest over a box to be sent to Miss Eastman in India, a missionary sent by the Riverside Methodists. Dolls and work bags, etc., are in great demand for the 265 little Indian girls in Miss Eastman's school and Glendale is anxious to help fill the box.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

Services as usual Sunday morning. Subject, "America, and the Foreigner." What Shall We Do With Him? No service in the evening. The Ladies' Aid Society will meet on Wednesday with Mrs. Palmer, East Sixth street.

COMMITTEE.

Social and Personal

Fireworks at Glendale Pharmacy.

The K. of P. lodge gives the last dance of the season at their hall tonight.

Don't forget the Glendale Market gives you the best meat at the lowest prices.

Mrs. S. E. Bennett of 1107 West Seventh street spent last week at Redondo.

Mr. E. F. Keatinge of the First National bank is enjoying a fortnight's holiday at Catalina.

Mrs. Robert Hopkins will on Monday be a guest of Mrs. C. O. Pulliam. Mrs. Hopkins' home is in San Francisco.

Miss Catherine Wells and her guest Miss De Letta Duglin have returned from a most happy visit with friends in Riverside.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Smith and son Harvey spent a pleasant day Sunday at Clearwater the guests of Mr. Smith's sister, Mrs. E. Mason.

Rev. Charles R. Norton was the guest of his daughter, Mrs. A. Ester Jones, during the week. On Tuesday the former Glendale pastor dined with old friends, Mrs. and Mrs. R. D. Goss of Fifth street.

Mr. J. B. Markley of Morrison, Ill., president of the Illinois Refrigerating Co., spent a few days the past week with his daughter, Mrs. Claude A. Pulliam, combining pleasure with a business trip.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Colegrove of Fifth street, who for some time have made Glendale their home, moved on Tuesday to Los Angeles. For a week previous they entertained as house guest Dr. Colegrove's mother.

The meeting of the Teachers' Union was held Thursday morning at the usual time, 10:45 a. m., at the Baptist church. Miss Campbell taught the review lessons for next Sunday. The topics were well handled.

You had better see the meats at Glendale Market before you buy. Their prices are right.

Mrs. L. Hovis of Fourth street, returned home from the California hospital, Friday, and was pleasantly surprised at the gifts awaiting her arrival, her friends remembering her "wooden wedding" anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Dering Arfvedson of West Fifth street are spending a few weeks at Redondo. Mrs. Arfvedson was very ill for a long time before going to the beach, and we hope the ocean air will greatly benefit her.

Mr. and Mrs. Platt M. Corbaley have returned from their visit to Mexico where they spent several weeks and are making their home for the present with Mrs. Corbaley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Anderson of East Sixth street.

Dr. F. L. Osenburg, dentist, Watson Block, Fourth and Glendale avenue. Phone Sunset 293.

Monday afternoon next the Mads and Matrons will be entertained by Mrs. Herbert Bartlett, assisted by Mrs. A. W. Dow and Mrs. V. Price Brown. It will be a geographical day and the features will be appropriate to that subject.

It is reported that Dr. H. E. Reed, the genial osteopathy physician, so well known in Glendale, has a call to Riverside some time this coming week to attend his own wedding. If this be so the News extends congratulations and blessings.

The first ripe apricots which we have seen this season from local orchards were brought to the NEWS office this week by Mr. D. A. Talbot of Sycamore Canyon, who reports prospects good for a large fruit crop with a good price for apricots.

Glendale Dye Works, William Lewis, proprietor. Sunset phone 2071; Home 832. Special for this week only: Ladies' suit $1.25; skirts 75c. All work guaranteed to give satisfaction. Phone and our wagon will call.

Under the direction of Mr. Earl B. Valentine, the boys' orchestra gave an open air concert at the new pavilion, corner Fourth and Glendale, last Saturday evening. There was a good crowd out and this, the first affair of the kind in Glendale, was highly appreciated.

Choice beef and lamb seasoned, to suit the dainty dinner table at Glendale Market.

Dave Carney has certainly been doing business by the number of packages of shoes that has gone out of his store since he has taken possession of the Glendale Shoe Store. Carney thoroughly understands his business and is satisfied with a small profit and believes in advertising.

Fireworks at Glendale Pharmacy.

K. of P. Dance

The Knights of Pythias will give a Negligee Dance at their hall, 3024 Brand Boulevard, Saturday evening, June 19th, at 8:15 o'clock. Admission 50c.; extra lady 25c. Refreshments.

You can't make a mistake if you buy your shoes at Carney's sacrifice sale of Glendale shoe stock.

Thanks are due to that eminent English gentleman, Albert Edward, King of England, for slighting the Vanderbilt youngster on whose account Mme. Ruiz committed suicide.

Secretary Wilson has discovered an "Individual Watermelon," a little two or three pounder, but the most of us continue to prefer the old reliable family kind that goes forty pounds or so.

The fact that Frances J. Heney and partners have received from Rudolph Spreckles $62,000, while Heney alone in two years received $23,000 from the same source and was also during a part of that time at least drawing pay from the United States government, makes it impossible for us to look upon him as a very unselfish patriot.

The program of the commencement exercises of the University of Southern California has been received at the NEWS office. It is a splendid specimen of the printer's art and contains the names of about 150 graduates from the various departments of that very useful and influential institution. Among the names of those attaining the degree of Bachelor of Laws, is that of our young fellow townsman, Ray E. Goode, whom we sincerely congratulate upon his entry into the ranks of this perhaps most influential of the learned professions.

THE "POET OF THE SIERRAS."

Joaquin Miller (christened plain "Henry"), heard the other day of the death of his Indian bride, whom he married fifty years ago, and divorced, presumably without aid of a court. While the press dispatch does not tell us that he did so, we are led to infer that he paid to her memory the tribute of a tear. The "Poet of the Sierras," is the most prominent of the picturesque characters that survive in the West. Forty years ago he was famous among the literary people of two continents, and if he had been capable of persistent devotion to poetry as a life work, he might have ranked among the great poets of the age. There is a peculiar originality in his poetry that is one of the attributes of genius. It has in it the musical quality and the warmth of expression which is found in the poetry of Byron and yet resembles it in no trick of rhyme or rhythm. He has written but little verse during the last twenty years, evidently preferring to turn out commonplace prose for the yellow press, which by its purchasing power has robbed the world of great possibilities in literature.

THE BOND ELECTION.

On Tuesday next the people of Glendale will decide at the polls whether they will issue bonds to the extent of $60,000 for the purpose of securing an electric lighting system. From the beginning we have maintained that this is a two-sided proposition and have endeavored consistently to present all obtainable facts bearing upon the subject, regardless of their tendency to one side of the question or the other.

As a matter of fact differences of opinion on such a subject as this are largely a matter of temperament, because there are but few facts obtainable that can be relied upon to have much bearing upon the subject, and individuals are prone to have their opinions warped by personal interest, prejudice and perhaps devotion to a particular theory. The success or failure of a municipal lighting plant in Glendale at the present time, cannot be determined in advance and the man does not live whose opinion on the subject is anything more than guesswork. There are a very large number of citizens, however, who are willing to take chances in the matter, feeling that even a comparative failure would not work irreparable injury, while success would be of very great benefit. Should the decision be in favor of the bonds, we have perfect confidence, not only in the honesty of the city trustees upon whom will devolve the expenditure of the money, but also in their conservative and good business judgment. The money will be honestly expended and such economy practical as is consistent with good business principles. In another place we have set forth the principal arguments being used on both sides of the question. Whatever the result of the election may be, we shall have the same unbounded faith in the great future of Glendale—the result of Tuesday's election will neither make nor mar it. The day will be merely a chapter in our history and although opinions may differ, the ultimate result will be the same—Glendale will arrive!

COMMENCEMENT WEEK.

In these rare days of June and extending into July there comes a period that is devoted almost entirely to the young generation of both sexes—the boys and girls of today—the men and women of tomorrow, when "Commencement" are the special order of the day, and youth has this particular season for its own. While the word "Commencement" seems to be a misnomer, there is a sense in which it is most appropriate, and that is found in the idea that school days being ended, now commences in earnest the serious business of life. The men and women of the world may be easily forgiven if there flits across the mind for a moment, a faint suggestion of envy when they note the glad spirit of the youngsters, their eagerness to launch out into the wider sea of knowledge and their limitless confidence in their equipment for the voyage. But they are not entirely objects of envy; there are pangs that strike them perhaps in the midst of their rejoicing and not the least of these possibly is the consciousness of the fact that they are legitimate marks at which may be thrown preachers by the bushel!

But they are usually good, wholesome sermons withal and in them will be found much of the meager accumulation of the wisdom of the ages. But even here is found consolation; they need not all be absorbed at once—they will furnish excellent provender for the days to come and may profitably be put in storage against the day of need; It may be ungracious to insist at such a happy season that the day of need will come, but it is not inapt to suggest that it may! Even the wisdom of the wisest graduate of the schools has been known to fail, and history is proverbially so self-enamored that it repeats nothing else but itself!

But today is the day of the optimist. Youth. The day of the triumph of hope, For falsehood is fleeting, eternal is truth, And wider than earth is its scope!

So here is success to the youth of today With that limitless hope which no circumstance bars, For what if the feet of his idols are clay If the dreamer in dreaming aspires to the stars!

SURPRISE PARTY.

Mrs. W. J. Smith and niece, Miss Smith, were pleasantly surprised at their home, 143 South Mary street, on Saturday, by members of the Elmwood club of Los Angeles. Those present were Mrs. C. D. Jones, Mrs. Sarah Wiley, Mrs. I. M. Godard, Mrs. Samuel Snyder, Mrs. W. E. M. Cole and daughter, Mrs. George S. Smith.

CARD OF THANKS.

The help rendered and the sympathy expressed in so many ways by a number of friends and neighbors during my recent trial and bereavement, is most sincerely appreciated and I wish hereby to render to all such friends my heartfelt thanks for acts which have done much to help me in the time of trial.

MRS. MARGARET G. HAWKEN.

Louis Prang, the "father of lithography," famous the world over as the originator of Prang's chromos and other works of art, died at the Glendale Sanitarium Tuesday last of pleuro-pneumonia, aged 85 years.

He came to Los Angeles six weeks ago, en route to Seattle, where he had intended to pass a few days at the exposition. He became sick in Los Angeles and came to the Glendale Sanitarium, where he died.

The body was cremated at the Los Angeles Crematory, and the ashes will be sent back to Roxbury, Mass.

Mr. T. W. Ogg has sold his place on Fifth street, east of Adams, for $3800. The property consists of a good house and three lots on the north side of the street, with a number of full bearing peach and other fruit trees, all in excellent condition. It is one of the most attractive homes in that section. The purchaser is a Mr. Beardslee, who, it is understood, will make still further improvements.

HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Beers on Third and Belmont, Tuesday afternoon.

After the usual business meeting the program was presented by Mrs. Josephine Byrket.

An interesting feature of the afternoon was the question box conducted by the leader.

Mr. N. F. Reynolds has returned from a six weeks' visit to his boyhood home in Pennsylvania. Like all the rest of the travelers who go from here he is glad to return home. He reports an extremely wet and cold spring in the Keystone state and noted while there the absence in small towns of electric lights, cement sidewalks and other modern improvements which are a feature of our western towns of equal size.

MAYOR WATSON'S VIEWS.

Glendale, June 16.

Editor NEWS:

With due respect to my friend and colleague, Trustee John A. Cole, I must emphatically protest against the statement that was published in the last issue of the NEWS over his signature, and I cannot believe that Mr. Cole examined the article very closely before he signed it. If it was not for the fact that it might mislead some of the very important questions that is before us just now I would let it pass without comment.

We really did expect some criticism of our plans and estimates, but we did not expect that any one would assume that because the board had established a minimum charge of one dollar, that one dollar was the maximum amount of electricity that each consumer would use. Anaheim has the same rates we expect to establish and their average per each consumer per month is $2.25. So you see our income was underestimated by over one-half.

I cannot help but think that if Mr. Cole had taken time to consider he would have seen that arguments based on such assumptions are worse than worthless.

Mr. Cole believes in economy, and I do not believe for one minute that he would consent to pay $60 for reading 200 meters each month when one man can do it in two days, or that he would be in favor of paying $175 a month for the bookkeeper when any one of Glendale's bright young ladies could do it and not be busy one-half of her time. His entire estimate of the operating expense is exaggerated to just about the same extent.

I do not think this is a fair way to put the matter before the voters. The first opposition to municipal lighting which appeared in the form of attack on the estimate of the cost of installing the plant was a failure and was very soon abandoned.

The next attack was in the form of an apparently homeless and authorless circular for which no one cared to be responsible (of course the Glendale Light and Power company had nothing to do with it), but when its real author was discovered and its misrepresentations exposed the circular was promptly abandoned as a campaign document and it is rumored that its author almost lost his job.

We must not lose sight of the fact that whether light is furnished by a private or a municipal corporation, the consumer must pay the expense of its production and distribution. The city by controlling the distribution can save the average consumer from $6 to $15 each year. If we are compelled to put in a generating plant, a small amount of this saving will have to be paid back to the city in the form of taxes for the first two years, but the only condition that will make that necessary would be the fact that the former could not be bought at a fair price from one of the large power companies; for it is our determination not to put in the generator if we can avoid it. I have had an interview with a man who is closely connected with the Pacific Light and Power Company and told him of our plans and he said that we were right in confining our efforts to distribution only and if we followed out his plan we would make a success of it. He also stated that he did not think it would be necessary for us to put in a generator as he had no doubt but that we could buy our power.

By the authority of the board of trustees I have appointed a committee of the following well-known citizens to assist in carrying out these plans should the bonds carry:

T. W. WATSON.

MR. CARRUTHERS FAVORS IT.

To Editor of NEWS:

I have been asked by numerous Lomita Park residents concerning my views on a municipal light plant and want to go on record prior to the election in favor of a municipal proposition.

In the city of Allegheny, Pa., municipal ownership of the water plant and gas and electric plants has prevailed for thirty years and has given satisfaction to all taxpayers. The municipal light plant, however, only furnishes street lights and the final net cost to the city is but $60 per annum for each light, which is much lower than any plant could furnish it here, however, for the reason that fuel is cheaper here owing to the proximity of the coal and natural gas fields.

However, in Pittsburg, across the river, where the privately owned corporation furnishes street lights for $75 per annum each the same conditions as to fuel prevail, showing conclusively that by the municipal ownership the interests of the taxpayers have been looked after to the extent of a saving of $15 per annum per light.

From my personal observation I am satisfied that a municipal plant is the right thing. The only obstacle I can see in its proper administration by our trustees, who unfortunately have never heretofore exhibited an extensive knowledge and broadness of mind in transacting our affairs for us. Any man who accepts the position of trustee with the narrow opinions that may have come to him through associations with a certain coterie of friends, must be able to broaden his views to take in the opinions of the majority of folks in the community and not persevere in the idea that he knows it all. There is much room for improvement and if the taxpayers give the present trustees $60,000.00 to handle and it is not properly handled, the stench that will arrive will linger long in the nostrils of the community and it will mean not only political leprosy for those who fail in their trust but personal disgust from those of us who are going to vote in favor of this municipal plant.

GEO. S. CARRUTHERS.

MUNICIPAL LIGHTS IN ANAHEIM AND LEMOORE.

Anaheim—Population 3500; assessed valuation $875,612; tax rate $1.57; proportion of this for electric light 32%; one issue of bonds only, $23,000; number of consumers, 376; monthly expense of plant, $662.15; monthly receipts, average, $783.50. A generating and distributing system, and is generally satisfactory.

Mr. E. B. Merritt, city clerk, adds the following:
"Will say that the monthly expenses include labor for extension of pole lines and the installing of lights. For installing lights we received last year $2378.45, which includes material used and is not in the receipts average above. Our bond issue did not allow us to extend our pole lines to the city limits as intended, but we are gradually building the line without cost to the taxpayers. After crediting the plant with lighting the streets and public schools and buildings, and charging it with maturing bonds and interest, also ten per cent. depreciation of $9000, gave us a surplus of $238.39."

The other is from Lemoore, in the San Joaquin valley: Assessed valuation $200,000; rate $1.90; of which .75 is for lighting plant; cost $22,000; consumers 150; monthly expense, about $500; monthly receipts about $450. A generator and distributing plant; service not satisfactory. Mr. Decker, city clerk, adds:

"The plant was built too small and the wires were too small and the price of oil advanced so the plant ran behind. We had to rebuild or sell we sold."

The polls will be open from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. on next Tuesday, June 22d. The proposition is to vote authority to issue $60,000 of bonds—the bonds to be eighty in number, drawing five per cent. interest. Forty of the bonds will be for $500 each and forty for $1000 each—one thousand dollars of the principal to be paid every year, the first payment to be made, July 1st, 1910, to bear interest from July 1st, 1909. It should be understood that if the bond issue is authorized, it does not follow that all of the bonds will be issued. It is the belief of the trustees that it will not be necessary to dispose of more than half of the issue at this time. If satisfactory arrangements can be made with a power company to furnish power, there will be no necessity for constructing a generating plant, which in the estimate of the trustees covers one-half the sum voted. This means that if the electric power can be bought it is within the limits of probability that the cost of constructing the distributing system will be not to exceed $30,000, and for present purposes there need be no issue of bonds in excess of that sum.

AN OPINION FROM PACIFIC LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 15, 1909.

Mr. J. A. Cole,

Trustee City of Glendale.

Dear Sir: Referring to your inquiry as to would it pay a city of the sixth class, containing about 2500 population, with poles and wires covering area of thirty-one miles, to install an electric light plant and manufacture electricity to supply citizens with light and power at ten cents (10c) per kilowatt at the minimum rate of one dollar ($1.00) per month, said city containing about seven hundred residences.

I would say in answer to this inquiry that in my opinion the same would not be a very profitable investment, with the residences scattered as they are in Glendale, it makes the matter of line extension and construction very excessive. In addition to which must be added the excessive amount of line losses that naturally occur during the heavy lighting load which is occasioned by the extreme lengths of wires in the distributing system.

It would require between twenty-five and thirty miles of pole line to cover the city in a thorough manner in order that any of the taxpayers who may desire to use electricity could be connected up. In order to thoroughly protect the city against damage suits for accidents that might happen should the line be put up in a hazardous manner, it would be necessary to use the very best method of construction and material throughout the system. Poles should be of a good and sufficient size to support the strain for which they are intended, and also give longer life as to lasting qualities. All wires should be of sufficient size to minimize the line losses to a minimum, and also have a good safety factor as to mechanical strength, so that they may not break down, thereby some one getting into them, being hurt and possibly killed.

The matter of cross country lines, that is lines running across private property for others than the consumers of which said lines are actually to serve, should be eliminated as much as possible for the reason that while some expense might be saved in the start, the expense of maintaining such a line is very expensive, in addition to the constant annoyance of parties complaining of the wires being over their property and insisting on the same being removed for one cause or another. Then again, the liability of damage is greatly increased by reason of the lines being over private property, particularly in cases where they are stretched with a view of serving other persons than the residents of said lots.

In a city such as you have, of approximately seven hundred buildings, I would say that it is more than possible that you would not be able to connect up more than sixty per cent. as consumers. This is our actual experience in cities where the buildings are residences and are more thickly settled than are yours. Assuming that you would be able to connect up this percentage as consumers, would give you approximately four hundred and twenty meters; the average bills of consumers in such a district are less than two dollars per month. Assuming the average in your plant would be two dollars per month, per meter, would mean an income of approximately eight hundred and forty dollars ($840.00) per month. In addition to this, there would be some store lighting, and the city lighting that would probably bring the amount up to one thousand dollars per month or an average of forty cents per month per capita; and although you are able to connect up the sixty per cent, or four hundred and twenty residences, it is more than likely that the entire district will have to be covered with the distributing system.

The expense of such a system including a generating plant would be quite considerable, and I have no doubt would represent an outlay to the city within two years, of approximately one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), and while the first bond issue called for might be for less than this, it would only be a short time until the second issue would be asked for in order to complete the plant.

The matter of operation of such a plant would be rather expensive. First, for the reason that being a municipal plant, must be operated strictly upon an eight-hour basis, and then again owing to the light load conditions existing between 9:00 p. m. each night and sunset the following day, the efficiency of the plant is reduced quite materially. With a non-condensing plant operating under these conditions, the drain on the oil tank would be very excessive.

Also, as to the matter of the operating force, it would be necessary to have a general superintendent, capable of looking after the electric and steam end, at approximately one hundred and fifty dollars per month; a chief engineer at not less than one hundred and twenty-five dollars; two assistants, one hundred dollars each; and a third assistant at eighty or ninety dollars. This gives you three regular operators, eight hours each, with the chief engineer to work in his time during such period as is necessary to make repairs and overhaul the machinery of the plant, and it is more than likely that before the plant is operated a year, request would be made to have firemen on each shift in addition to the engineer; this would mean additional expense for three shifts of firemen of from one hundred eighty to two hundred dollars per month. It would also require one line-man at approximately one hundred dollars per month, and a helper at approximately seventy-five dollars per month, with a horse and wagon at an approximate expense of thirty dollars per month. There should also be one meter reader, at an approximate expense of sixty dollars per month, and the office force for figuring and getting out bills, taking care of the connections, etc., the making of contracts, taking care of complaints, and various incidentals necessary for the operation of the plant, of not less than two and possibly three employees at an expense of one hundred and eighty to two hundred dollars per month. Telephone service and expense to be taken care of; fuel expense is problematical, owing to the inefficient operating conditions which naturally exists in giving 24-hour service on such a system as you would have.

I have my doubts if you would average 50 K. W. at your switchboard per barrel of oil consumed, in addition to this loss must be added exciting current transformers during the entire period of light load conditions.

Also it must be taken into consideration that the line force has numerated only for the purpose of maintaining the lines and looking after small service work.

Owing to the fact that new houses are constantly being erected, and also more or less houses that were not connected upon the original installation will be demanding service, it will be necessary to provide material and line force enough to take care of these additional applicants; all of which requires an additional outlay of money before any returns come in. It being nothing unusual to put one hundred dollars into a service connection with a possible income of one and one-half dollars to two dollars per month. With a municipal system the applicant will be more insistent upon the connection being made no matter what the expense may be, inasmuch as he has to pay a proportional tax on the bonded indebtedness.

There also must be taken care of, in addition to the various expenses as mentioned above, the matter of depreciation on your pole line and generating plant which should not be figured at less than six per cent.

Yours very respectfully,
E. A. BECK,
Supt. Pacific Light & Power Co.

OFFICIAL OF EDISON COMPANY THINKS WOULD NOT PAY.

June 15, 1909.

Mr. J. A. Cole, Trustee, City of Glendale, California.
Dear Sir: Referring to your inquiry as to the operation of an electric lighting plant in a city of 2500 population, covering an area of 31 miles.

My experience has demonstrated that, under the conditions as outlined in your letter, a rate of 10c per k.w.h., with a minimum charge of $1.00 per month, would not be sufficient to care for the operating expenses, interest and depreciation.

Our company has a very large number of small consumers of the class you mention, and we find that the monthly income per consumer from this class of business does not average in excess of $1.25 per month, when energy is sold at the rate of 12½c per kilowatt hour.

It is my belief that even with a rate of 15c per kilowatt hour the income to be derived from a community of the class which you have mentioned would not be sufficient to cover the operating expenses and fixed charges.

Yours truly,
R. H. BALLARD,
Sec'y and Asst. General Mgr.

FROM THE LOS ANGELES GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 14, 1909.

Mr. J. A. Cole, Trustee City of Glendale.
Dear Sir: Replying to the question of whether it would pay a city of the sixth class to install an electric plant, and supply its citizens with light and power at the rate of 10 cents per kilowatt hour, we should certainly say that it would not pay such a city, under the conditions named.

Yours truly,
R. M. ADAMS, Sec'y.

JOHN A. EPPINGER FAVORS IT.

Glendale, Cal., June 17, 1909.

Editor GLENDALE NEWS:
In re to the lighting question it seems that those who are rallying to the assistance of the present lighting company have shown the weakness of their position by the misrepresentations they have been compelled to make in order to put forth a case for their client. It is not to be wondered at that any one rising to the defense of a company with a record like that of the present one, finds mere facts inadequate and useless. What is the good of facts in attempting to uphold a company in charging a patron $100 for connecting him up? What possible assistance can the truth be in explaining the extortion of $15.00 for meters or a 50 per cent. overcharge for electricity?

The latest example of this appears in a letter to the GLENDALE NEWS dated 12th inst., over the signature of John A. Cole, (I presume the author to be Trustee Cole), purporting to show the income and expenditures of such a plant. The author of this gives a salary and expense list large enough for a city half a dozen times the size of Glendale; but when he comes to figuring income Glendale immediately dwindles to a cross roads settlement. It seems to be a favorite dodge of the staunch supporters of the present plant to assume that we would have 300 customers when they are figuring initial cost and expense, but when they get to estimating income they can only see 300 customers. They concede an income of only $360 per month, but put the cost of fuel at considerable more than that of plants having five times the business they credit us with (300 customers), but charge us with a salary list large enough for 3000. They do not explain the fact that other towns the size of Glendale are making the business pay at two-thirds the rate charged by the present company. It is a mistaken idea to assume that they are the only ones gifted with sufficient "gray matter" to conduct municipal affairs successfully, but there are others who are fully competent to conduct them on sound paying business principles. It behooves the voters to wake up. We hope they will do so. Don't let us drift back to the lantern, tallow candle or smoky kerosene lamp.

Respectfully yours,
JNO. A. EPPINGER.

The Kaffeeklatsch.
The difference between a 5 o'clock tea and a German Kaffeeklatsch is enormous. The tea is a pleasant go-as-you-please meeting, where we balance our teacups in hand periously handicapped by our multitudinous possessions, augmented by the frail saucer on which a top heavy piece of cake finds an insecure resting place. We may enjoy a variety of creature comforts augmented by ices and cups on festive occasions.

Not so the German Kaffeeklatsch. That is a ponderous affair which you take sitting at tables. Coffee and savories mark the beginning of the meal, followed by numberless cakes which the Germans know so well how to make. This is followed by some creamy preparation or a beautiful device made in ice. This again is succeeded by the choicest fruits.

The Kaffeekanne is meanwhile still busily playing its trade. There is a well known German song which ends with the refrain, freely translated: "Thank you, thank you, hostess mine. I never drink more cups than nine."—London Queen.

The Fairy Hounds.
In some years stoats appear to be more numerous than in others, and they are seen not in ones and twos, but in dozens, hunting together in small packs. The late E. T. Booth of Brighton, when shooting in East Lothian one autumn, met a pack of stoats which attacked a terrier he had with him and would not be driven off until he and the dog between them had killed more than a dozen. Stoats will hunt together from scent and in full cry like a pack of hounds, one always keeping the line and followed closely by the others. This sight has been recorded by different observers, who have also seen weasels hunting in the same way. There is a popular notion in the west of England that hares are hunted at night by packs of little fairy hounds, locally called "dandy dogs," and these are said to be weasels, which the west country folks call "fairies," pronouncing the word "fairies" and "fair." Some of them declare that they have seen and watched the chase with awe.—London Graphic.

Poetic Justice.
A man whose soul had been tortured frequently by the remarks of his wife, who takes a fiendish delight in setting a price on the handsome clothes worn by other women, one day found sweet comfort in the incautious comment of a woman in a crowded car.
"Oh, yes," said that observing other woman, "the hat looks well enough, but it is cheap. It couldn't have cost a cent more than $6."
Thereupon said the man to his wife: "Why do you always pick out the most expensive clothes for especial notice? Why don't you look at something cheap once in awhile? There are cheap things worn. There is a hat in this very car that cost only $6. The woman just behind us pointed it out a minute ago."
"Well," said his wife, "you are the last person on earth who ought to feel proud of it. It was me she was talking about."—New York Times.

Old English Flint Glass.
Large quantities of lead and potash were introduced into the constituents of the glass which in 1678 is described as being clear, heavy and thick as crystal.
A great impetus was given to the manufacture when the edict of Nantes in 1685 drove the skilled artisans from France. Many of them came to England, and the fame of British glass grew until it was considered superior to that of Bohemia.
From 1736 to about 1761 we have but few particulars. Then Michael Edkins, formerly a potter, became prominent as a maker of the highest class of enameled glass, which has become very scarce. It has an opaque white body, beautifully painted in enamel colors with figures, flowers, etc. In fact, it much resembles a glossy porcelain. It is getting scarce, too, and fine pieces are increasing in value.—London Opinion.

Porcine Geometry.
Seven-year-old William had become the proud owner of a pet pig and insisted upon having all the care of it himself. After a few weeks, as the pig did not seem to thrive, his father said to him:
"William, I'm afraid you are not feeding your pig enough. It does not seem to be fattening at all."
"I don't want him to fatten any yet," William replied knowingly. "I'm waiting until he gets to be as long as I want him, then I'll begin to widen him out."

After the Honeymoon.
He (at a picture gallery)—I wonder what that painting represents? The youth and the maiden are in a tender attitude. She—Oh, don't you see? He has just asked her to marry him, and she is accepting him. He—Ah, how appropriate the title! She—I don't see it. He—Why, that card at the bottom says "Sold."

Her Reason.
He—Do you know any good reason why women should vote?
She—Yes, I do.
"What is it?"
"Well, because,"—Yonkers Statesman.

In Spite of It.
Mother—And when he proposed did you tell him to see me? Daughter—Yes, mamma, and he said he'd seen you several times, but he wanted to marry me just the same.—Sphinx.

Whoever hath nobly yielded to necessity I hold him wise, and he knoweth the things of God.—Burton.

Largest Family on Record.
In the Harleian manuscript, Nos. 78 and 80, in the library of the British Museum mention is made of the most extraordinary family that has ever been known in the world's history. The parties were a Scotch weaver and his wife (not wives), who were the father and mother of sixty-two children. The majority of the offspring of this prolific pair were boys—exactly how many is not known, for the record mentions the fact that forty-six of the male children lived to reach manhood's estate and only four of the daughters lived to be grownup women. Thirty-nine of the sons were still living in the year 1630, the majority of them then residing in and about Newcastle-on-Tyne. It is recorded in one of the old histories of Newcastle that a certain gentleman of large estates rode "thirty and three miles beyond the Tyne to prove this wonderful story." It is further related that Sir J. Bowers adopted ten of the sons and three other "landed gentlemen" took ten each. The remaining members of the extraordinary family were brought up by the parents.

Mascagni's Royal Critic.
Mascagni, the famous composer, was once asked to entertain the royal court in Rome. He did so and delighted his audience. When he finished playing he started a conversation with a little princess who had stood near the piano during the recital and had shown every sign of deep interest. As a matter of fact, she had been instructed by her mother to say, if any question should be asked, that "Mascagni was the greatest musician in Italy."

The composer asked her which of the great living masters she liked best, and the proud mother turned toward the child to hear the pretty little speech which had been taught her. Instead of the compliment came the withering remark:

"There are no great masters living. They are all dead."

The musician gave a little start and then said:

"Your excellency, permit me to congratulate you. You are the most truthful critic in Europe."

Queer Cases of Jilt.
A well known novelist was once jilted by a girl who took exception to the inadequate punishment meted out to one of his fictitious villains. She declared that as he regarded vice with so lenient an eye he must himself be at heart a reprobate and unworthy of true love and that she must request that their acquaintance cease.

An eminent lawyer in his younger days met with a similar mishap. The lady to whom he was engaged, chancing to hear that he had delivered a most skillful though futile speech in defense of an arrant rogue, wrote, saying that she must decline to know one who could thus strive to speciously excuse crime. In return he pleaded the exigencies of the profession, but in vain. The lady was obstinate and soon afterward, by the strange irony of fate, married a man who was ultimately convicted of gross fraud, mainly through the forensic eloquence of her former lover.

Ominous.
When Julia, Mrs. Blank's maid of all work, came to her mistress and "gave notice" because she was going to be married, Mrs. Blank said:

"You know, Julia, that marriage is a pretty serious thing."

"Yes'm," replied Julia, "but not gittin' married is a more serious thing sometimes, don't you think? Anyhow, it'll be as serious for him as it is for me if we don't get along all right. But then, as you say, gittin' married is about the seriouslest piece of business a body can engage in, an' mebbe I am a fool an' mebbe he's a bigger one. There's no tellin'. It's a terrible solemn thing, as I reckon you've found out by this time. Like enough I'll slip sorrow, but so will he. That's one comfort."—Detroit Free Press.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

June 20th, 1909.

(Copyright, 1909, by Rev. Dr. Linscott, D.D.)

Golden Text—With great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus Acts 1:33.

The following review is planned for all who are taking up these Bible Studies whether having actually studied the eleven lessons here reviewed or only a part of them. Even if this is the first lesson which has captured a reader's attention it can be made a profitable lesson in itself.

The date and title of each lesson, and where found, the Golden Text and one question for each lesson follow.

April 4—Acts x:1-48. Peter and Cornelius. Golden Text, Acts x:35. In every nation he that feareth Him, and worketh righteousness is accepted of Him.

Verses 1-2—Can you give a good reason why God to-day is not as well pleased with a devout Roman Catholic as he is with a devout Protestant, or vice versa?

April 11—1 Cor. xv:12-28. Easter Lesson. Golden Text, 1 Cor. xv:20. Now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept.

Verses 1-2—Can you mention a single nation, or tribe, or people in the past, or the present, that has not believed, or does not believe, in life after death in some shape?

April 18—Acts ix:1-30. The Conversion of Saul. Golden Text, Acts ix:4. He fell to the earth and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

Verses 1-2—How do you account for Saul's bitter hatred for Christians before his conversion, and that after he became a Christian he showed such a spirit of love toward those who were not Christians? (This question is to be answered in writing by members of the club.)

April 25—Acts xi:19-30; xii:25. The Gospel in Antioch. Golden Text, Acts xi:26. The disciples were called Christians first in Antioch.

Verses 29-30—Should the Church of Christ today be a practical brotherhood, caring for one another, and helping each other financially, and in every other way as the need may be?

May 2—Acts xiii:1-12. Paul's First Missionary Journey—Cyprus. Golden Text, Mark xvi:15. Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature.

Verses 3-4—It is clearly the duty of the present day church to send missionaries to foreign countries and into new districts; is it equally the duty of all men to help support such missionaries?

May 9—Acts xiii:13-52. Paul's First Missionary Journey—Antioch in Pisidia. Golden Text, Acts xiii:49. The word of the Lord was published throughout all the region.

Verses 14-15—If a professed Christian does not attend church, and act like a Christian when away from home, is he a real Christian when at home, no matter how he may act when there?

May 16—Acts xiv:1-28. Paul's First Missionary Journey—Icönium. Golden Text, Ps. xvi:5. All the gods of the nations are idols; but the Lord made the heavens.

Verses 1-2—Was the unbelief of the Jews a matter of the intellect through lack of evidence; or was it a matter of the heart; that is, a result of their rebellion against God?

May 23—Acts xv:1-35. The Council at Jerusalem. Golden Text, Acts xv:11. We believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we shall be saved, even as they.

Verses 6-7—Is actual experience of God, and his dealings with us, conclusive proof of the will of God, in the matters which the experience covers?

May 30—Jas. ii:14-26. Believing and Doing. Golden Text, Jas. ii:26. Faith without works is dead.

Verses 14-15—Can a man have true faith in God if he is not filled with love to his fellows, and doing all he can to help them?

June 6—Jas. iii:1-12. The Power of the Tongue. Golden Text, Prov. xxi:23. Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue keepeth his soul from troubles.

Verses 2-3—Is the control of the tongue the key to the control of the entire man? Give your reasons.

June 13—Heb. xi:1-40. Heroes of Faith. Golden Text, Heb. xi:1. Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

Verses 1-3—If a desirable thing is firmly possessed by faith, does that give as much, or similar satisfaction, as the possession of the thing itself?

Lesson for Sunday, June 27th, 1909—Temperance Lesson Rom. xiii:8-14.

Why They Moved. The Binges, mother and daughter, had long outstayed their welcome at their country friend's house. Moreover, they evinced no sign of going away nor did the mother seem to be in any way affected by the strong hints to go which the overtaxed hostess threw out from time to time. Finally, forbearance exhausted, the entertainer decided to reach the mother through her daughter. So one day, calling the little visitor to her, she said, "Mamie, when do you expect to go home?" "Oh, I'm sure I don't know," was the careless reply. "We've several other places to stop at yet." "Well, when do you go on to the next place?" "Can't even tell that. Mamie says it's immaterial to her just when she'll leave here." "But, my dear child," exclaimed the exasperated hostess, "doesn't your mother realize how costly living is these days?" "Oh, yes, she knows how dear it is. That's why we left the city." "Well, Mamie, I cannot afford to entertain visitors any longer, and I wish you'd tell your mother that at once!" "Is that an insult?" rejoined the child, turning haughtily to the speaker. "Why do you ask that, child?" "Because when we're insulted we go on to the next place!"—London Weekly.

Unanswerable. "Vicious circle" is a term often used in the medical world. An example of its psychological use applied to argument may be found in Joseph A. Scoville's book, "Old Merchants of New York City."

Tom, the son of a wealthy man, was a great favorite with all who knew him, but he heartily detested business. A merchant of New York had hired him as a bookkeeper at a high salary. Nevertheless Tom got into the habit of reaching the office later and later, until finally he got there about 2 in the afternoon. When this state of affairs had gone on for a week, the merchant remonstrated.

"But, my dear sir," returned Tom, "how can I come any earlier? I don't get my breakfast until 1."

"But get your breakfast earlier."

"How can I? I don't get up till 12."

"Then get up earlier."

"How can I?" pleaded Tom, "when I don't go to bed until daylight?"

In the face of such convincing argument there was nothing to be said.

The Drill in the Pearl. The pale, bent workmen were, most of them, drilling costly pearls, but here a man in kid gloves performed the operation of skinning—the operation of removing a pearl's outer, discolored coat, so as to give it again its original luster. And by the window another man shook industriously three pearls in a bottle.

"It is a secret of the trade—the pearl driller's trade," he said—"this bottle shaking. You see, in pearl drilling a drill point often breaks off in a pearl, and to get it out may take a whole day's work—that is, if you don't know the secret."

He looked closely at the bottom of the glass bottle, and then, continuing his shaking, he resumed: "But if you put your pearl in a bottle and shake it up the drill point in a few minutes will fall out of itself. Look! There's another out already. The third will come soon now."—Exchange.

To Transfer Printing. Anything printed on paper with ordinary printer's ink can be transferred to a clean sheet of paper in the following manner: Take three drams of common yellow soap and dissolve it in one quart of hot water. When cool add one and a half fluid ounces of spirits of turpentine. Put all in a bottle, cork it and shake well together. Take a sponge or soft brush and apply some of the solution to the printed surface. Let it soak for a few minutes. Lay it face down upon the paper on which the transfer is required and press both together evenly between the leaves of a thick book placed under weights. In a time varying from half a minute to several hours, according to the newness of the printed original, it will be transferred in reverse.

Not a Crack Shot. "My aim is truth—always truth," said a man.

"Possibly," rejoined an acquaintance, "but you were always a bad marksman."

A man's fate lies in his character and not in his conditions.—Mable.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE. Whereas in a certain Deed of Trust, dated December 10, 1908, executed at Los Angeles, California, by Thomas H. Oulsnam and Isabella Oulsnam, his wife, parties of the 1st part, the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, a corporation, party of the 2nd part, and Fidelity Savings and Loan Association, a corporation, party of the 3rd part, and recorded December 11, 1908, in book 3668, page 58, of Trust Deeds, Records of Los Angeles County, California, to which record reference is hereby made; said parties of the 1st part, Thomas H. Oulsnam and Isabella Oulsnam, his wife, did grant and convey the premises therein described to the Title Guarantee and Trust Company as trustee, for the uses and purposes set out in said Trust Deed, among other uses, to secure the payment of one certain promissory note and interest according to the terms of said note, and other sums of money advanced, and interest thereon, the same being made due and payable to Fidelity Savings and Loan Association, a corporation, the party of the 3rd part.

Whereas, there has been a default in the payment of the monthly installment of interest and premium due and payable on said note for the month of January, 1909, and all subsequent monthly installments, and by reason of such default said Title Guarantee and Trust Company has in accordance with the provisions of its By-Laws and said Trust Deed, declared the full amount of the indebtedness immediately due and payable, the same being made due and payable to Fidelity Savings and Loan Association, a corporation, the party of the 3rd part.

Whereas, said Title Guarantee and Trust Company has demanded payment, of said Robert N. Martin and Pearl C. Martin, his wife the sum of thirty-one hundred fifty-two and 42-100 dollars ($3152.42) which sum remains due and unpaid.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, by virtue of the authority vested in said Corporation as Trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash in gold coin on the 12th day of June, 1909, at the hour of 12 M., of said day, at the Western front entrance of the Court House in the City of Los Angeles, California, all the interest conveyed by said parties of the first part, to the party of the second part by said Trust Deed in and to all the following described property, to wit: All of Lots Two (2) and Four (4) of the R. N. Martin Tract, a Subdivision of Lot Fifteen (15) in Block Seven (7) Foothill Tract, in the City of and County of Los Angeles, State of California, as per map recorded in Book 9, page 29, of Maps, in the office of the County Recorder of said County.

Subject to a right of way for foot passengers, described as the Easterly Five (5) feet of Lot Two (2), cut off by a line parallel with the Easterly line of Lot Two (2) and Five (5) feet distant westerly therefrom, which said right of way may be arched, spanned or covered by such structures as the owner of Lots Two (2) and Four (4) may determine, provided space is left clear under such structure for passage Five (5) feet wide and, at least, Eight (8) feet high, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to pay the total amount of the principal, interest, advances, charges, and costs accrued, amounting to the sum of thirty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($3350), due and unpaid.

In witness whereof the Title Guarantee and Trust Company has duly authorized this notice, by the signature of its Vice-President, attested by the Secretary, who has affixed the Corporate Seal, at Los Angeles, California, this 3rd day of May, 1909.

TITLE GUARANTEE & TRUST CO. E. W. SARGENT, Vice-President. Corporate Seal.

Attest: L. C. BRAND, Secretary.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 12, 1909.

The above sale is hereby postponed for sufficient reasons, until June 19, 1909, at the above mentioned hour and place.

Chess Word Wanderers.

An interesting set of word wanderers clusters about the game of chess. "Shah," the Persian word for king, was corrupted in French to "eschec," which has been transferred into English as "check." Our verb and noun check, in most of the common uses, has arisen from the cry of "Check!"—literally "King!" or "Look out for your king!"—which is given when a player puts his opponent's king in danger. When a player has put his opponent's king in such a condition that he cannot be rescued he cries "Checkmate!" a corruption of the Persian "Shah mat!" or "The king is dead!" The chessboard was called in old French an "eschiquier." From this word are derived our "checker," both verb and noun; "checkers," the name of another game played on the same kind of board, and "exchequer," so called on account of the checkered cloth on which accounts were formerly calculated.—Minneapolis Journal.

A Thrifty Wife.
A careful, prudent wife is a blessing to a man, especially to a poor man, but some wives are a little too careful. Lord Eldon's wife was somewhat "near," as they say in England. His lordship was very fond of hunting and retired to the country for a few weeks toward the end of the season, where he was in the habit of riding a little Welsh pony, for which he gave 50 shillings. One morning his lordship, intending to enjoy a few hours' sport, ordered Bob to be saddled. Lady Eldon objected, but as company was present gave no reason. In a few moments, however, the servant opened the door and announced that Bob was ready.

"Why, bless me," exclaimed her ladyship, "you can't ride him, Lord Eldon! He has no shoes on."
"Yes, my lady, he was shod this week," said the servant.
"Shameful!" exclaimed her ladyship. "How dare any one have him shod without orders? John," she continued, addressing her husband, "you know you rode the pony only a few times last year, so I had the shoes taken off and have kept them ever since in my bureau. They are as good as new, and these people have shod him again. We shall be ruined at this rate."

First of the Swifts.
Gustavus Franklin Swift, the first of this commercial dynasty, was a Cape Cod Yankee, who bought a steer now and then and peddled the meat from the back of a certain gocart which has since become famous. He moved to Albany and went deeper into meats, discarding one after another partners who had not the foresight and daring which he possessed. He located in Chicago at the beginning of those days of great possibilities in bringing into touch the new west and the older east. It was he who invented the first refrigeratory car. This was the one revolutionary act which put his sons and a few other sons in very fair control of half of the meat of America. He saw the market for dressed beef extended only after the hardest of fights. All great revolutions are fought against. All the rest, all England, all Europe, fought the idea of dressed beef and then accepted it. I doubt if we could do without it now.—Cosmopolitan Magazine.

A Voice From the Gods.
In a certain theater which makes a specialty of melodrama there is a large following of gallery "gods," and very naturally the "sky" assemblage is composed of knowing critics, who are loud in their demands to be pleased. Woe unto the actor who is unfortunate enough to incur their displeasure!

Recently a play with a hair raising plot was put on the boards. The hero was evidently new to his part, for he tumbled his lines badly and spoke in a faltering tone. Perhaps it was for this reason that he did not meet with the sympathy of the gallery.

Just before the crisis of the play the hero clasped his sweetheart in his arms and said:

"Keep a brave heart, my darling. The worst is yet to come."
Whereupon a voice that had no doubt received its training in crying "Extry" on the street yelled out:
"What are y' goin' t' do, mister—sing?"—London Tit-Bits.

There Was Something Doing.
In a barber's shop the other day I saw a man for whom I felt sorry—not that he needed my sympathy from the standpoint of charity, for he was a well to do man, having many business affairs, but I felt sorry for him because of what he was doing. A barber was cutting his hair. He was having his left hand manicured. In his right hand he held a newspaper. He was smoking a cigar, and a porter was shining his shoes. There he sat reading a newspaper. Three persons were busy waiting on him, doing their best to please him, and he was oblivious to the joy which his opportunity afforded him.—Fort Worth Star.

What's in a Name.
Talking of names, what's in them? A good lot sometimes. We knew a girl named Rose once. She was a daughter of old Rose, and he, being a little romantic, christened her Wild. Certainly Wild Rose is a pretty name. But, alas, the old man was not farseeing! She married a man named Bull. Then, again, we happen to know a carpenter named Pierrotzicz Znachizrowski. Now, whenever a fellow workman saws down on a nail this chap always sings out, "What is it?" He thinks they are calling him. Yes, there's a good deal in a name.—London Scraps.

Partners in Crime.
The hard looking customer had been arrested for stealing an umbrella. "What have you to say for yourself?" asked the police justice. "Are you guilty or not guilty?"
"I'm one of the guilty ones, y'r honor. I reckon," answered the prisoner. "The umbrella had the name of J. Thompson on the handle, G. H. Brickley stamped on the inside of the cover, and I stole it from a man named Quimby."—Chicago Tribune.

Knowing.
"Does he know much?"
"Well, he not only knows that he doesn't know much, but he knows enough to keep others from knowing it."—Judge.

The Unfeeling World.
"Did you ever feel that the world was against you?"
"Sure. I felt it this morning when I slipped on the sidewalk."—Pittsburg Observer.

Big Shoe Sale

Is now going on and will continue until the people of Glendale are satisfied that goods can be sold as cheap, and cheaper, here, than in the city. We have come here to make this our home, and in a very short time Glendale will have as fine a shoe store as any town of its size in California. Our many years of experience ought to enable us to satisfy all customers. Our prices will always be low because our expenses are so small. We have had a large crowd of customers every day during sale. Remember, over half of this stock is brand new goods, just bought.
